A Life Saved

Never give up. No matter how ill you are. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured some terrible cases, and it will cure you.

Mr. Thos. H. Cabell, Barrell Creek, Drip-stone, New South Wales, writes:
"I feel it my duty to let suffering people know what a wonderful blood-purifying medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My illness began with sharp pains in the limbs, while I was handling wet wool. After a day or two I could not walk, and suffered terrible pains. My face turned nearly black, large red blotches came out all over my body, and then I became delirious. I was in two hospitals for some time, and everything was tried, but I grew weaker and weaker, and became convinced that nothing could be done for me. I had heard so much about Ayer's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would give it a trial as the last hope. After taking one bottle I thought I felt a little better.
So I procured another bottle, and then another, and still another. I gradually improved, and in due time left my bed for the first time in six months. I am now in good health, and I say to every one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla saved my life."

LIFE OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT

COPYRIGHT 1904
PUBLISHED BY THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Theodore Roosevelt, renominated for President by the Republicans, was known as one of the most unique and picturesque figures in American public life when he was elected to the vice presidency in 1900 and succeeded to the presidency a year later through the death of William McKinley. His diversified and vigorous activities had not only brought him recognition and advancement in political life, but had won him renown on the field of battle.
In the Bad Lands of the West, as ranchman, hunter and cowboy, and also in the more peaceful pursuits of honors in the literary world.

In continuation of well-established tradition concerning national heroes, the President was born in a great city.
His birthplace was in East Twentieth street, New York city, and the date October 27, 1858, which made him the youngest President when he succeeded to that high office three years ago.
His father, Theodore, belonged to an old and wealthy Knickerbocker family, and his mother was a descendant of Archibald Bullock, first president of Georgia during the Revolution.

As a young man Roosevelt was exceedingly frail from a physical viewpoint. He was sent to private schools during his early school years and preparation for Harvard University to avoid the rough treatment of boys in the public schools. He was a devotee of all athletic sports at Harvard and when he graduated from that institution in 1880 his health was very much improved. After extended travel in Europe, he returned to this country, studied law for a few months, and then plunged at once into the maelstrom of municipal politics. He was elected in 1881 an assemblyman from the Twenty-first Assembly District of New York. At Albany he was promptly dubbed a "silk stocking" and a "freak" of a popular election. Mr.
Roosevelt, then but 23 years old, soon succeeded in making himself a storm center. His best known work in the legislature at this time was in connection with the passage of the act abolishing the fee system in county offices and in depriving the board of aldermen of their veto power of the mayor's appointments. This was a relief of the Tweed regime.

In 1884 Mr. Roosevelt went to Chicago as a delegate to the Republican national convention. He opposed the nomination of Blaine but when Mr.
Blaine became the Republican choice Mr. Roosevelt fell into line and worked for the party candidate's success. After retiring from the legislature Mr.

Roosevelt spent some time at his ranch in North Dakota.

In 1886 he was again in the turmoil of New York city politics. Henry George was a candidate for mayor.
Abram S. Hewitt was the nominee of the Democrats. Mr. Roosevelt was put in the field by the Republicans. Mr.
Hewitt won. Roosevelt next attracted notice as a hunter of big game. He delighted in hunting the grizzly bears and other fierce animals of the West.

President Harrison in 1889 appointed Mr. Roosevelt United States Civil Service Commissioner. President Cleveland retained him in office, although Mr. Roosevelt resigned in 1895 to become President of the New York board of police commissioners. His service as a police commissioner was of a most strenuous type and he was credited with effectually stopping the police blackmail of saloon keepers.

President McKinley appointed Mr.
Roosevelt Secretary of the Navy which office he resigned at the outbreak of hostilities with Spain. Returning to the Bad Lands Mr. Roosevelt organized his famous regiment of Rough Riders for service in Cuba. The history of Roosevelt and his Rough Riders during the Santiago campaign is well remembered. Returning to the United States after the campaign was over, Col. Roosevelt found himself already talked of for the Republican gubernatorial nomination of New York.
He was nominated and elected Governor over Augustus Van Wyck, the Democratic candidate, by 11,536 votes.
From the Governor's chair to the vice presidency was but a step, although an unwilling one, for Mr.
Roosevelt. He was nominated at Philadelphia June 21, 1900, for the second highest office in the gift of the people.
Mr. Roosevelt, it is said, was unwilling to have his name presented to the convention, declaring that he did not desire the nomination. There was a great popular demand for his nomination, however, and he finally yielded. He had served but little more than six months as vice president when the assassination of President McKinley resulted in his elevation to the executive chair.

The wife of President Roosevelt was Miss Edith Kermit Carey. The President has six children. The eldest, Miss Alice, is now twenty years old. The others are Theodore Roosevelt Jr., now sixteen; Kermit, aged fourteen; Ethel, twelve years old; Archibald, nine, and Quentin six. The President has been twice married, Miss Alice being the child of his first wife, who was Miss Alice Lee of Boston.

NAN PATTERSON GIVES ADVICE

THE FLORODORA GIRL WHO IS ACCUSED OF THE MURDER OF CAE-SAR YOUNG TELLS HER STORY OF THE SHOOTING AND GIVES A WARNING TO YOUNG GIRLS—SHOULD KEEP AWAY FROM MAR-RIED MEN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Nan Patterson, the Florodora chorus girl, who is still in the Tombs charged with the murder of Caesar Young, hopes that she will be admitted to bail tomorrow on the indictment against her quashed.
Today she made a remarkable statement, denying all knowledge of the crime with which she is charged, and giving words of strong advice to other young women who may be as foolish in their love affairs as she was in hers.
Miss Patterson makes a new and important statement to the effect that for days before his death Young, who had been drinking a mixture of champagne and whiskey, was on the verge of delirium tremens.

To erring maidenhood she says:
"My advice to young girls is to keep away from married men. If I had done so I would not have been here." Con-

THE PNEUMATIC GOLF BALL

BEST FOR THE EXPERT - IT PLAYS BEST BEST FOR THE BEGINNER - IT WEARS BEST

Looks like an ordinary golf ball, BUT IT ISN'T.
Size, weight, appearance—nothing new there. It's the filling that does it. That's Compressed Air, the most perfect resilient known.

And—DON'T imagine you are giving The Pneumatic a fair test when you drop it on a plate with other balls to compare resiliency. It isn't made for hand-ball.

To know its superiority you must play GOLF with it.
It responds when you need it.

A ball guaranteed not to cut.
We have just received a fresh lot of Pneumatics direct from factory, and are selling same at $5.00 each or $5.00 per dozen.
